Life and Death

Adia, Laís, Marjory and Rogério.

At the birth of the sea-turtles about 150 eggs are opened to the new turtles begin their new lives.

But why so much sea turtles die before they know the life if they didn't do anything for this happy why?

I was born this way, baby!

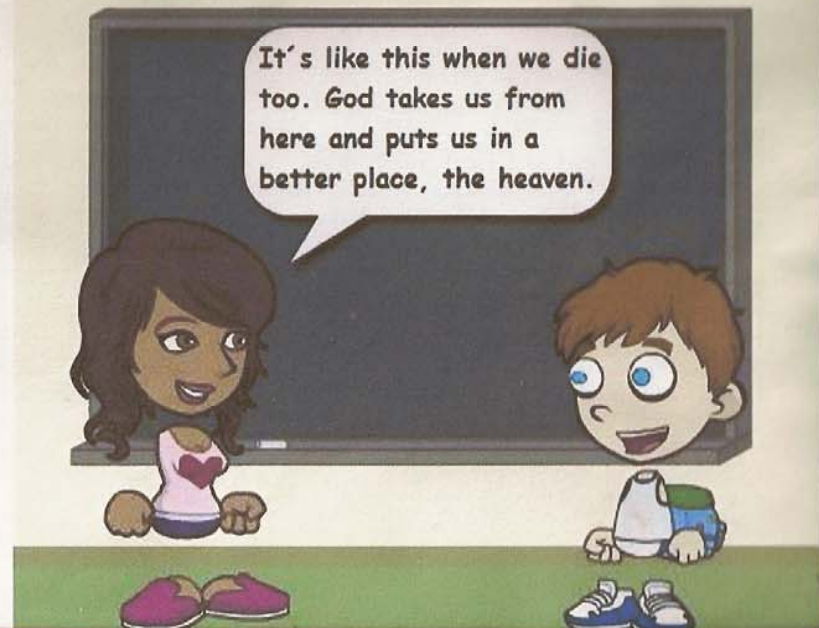

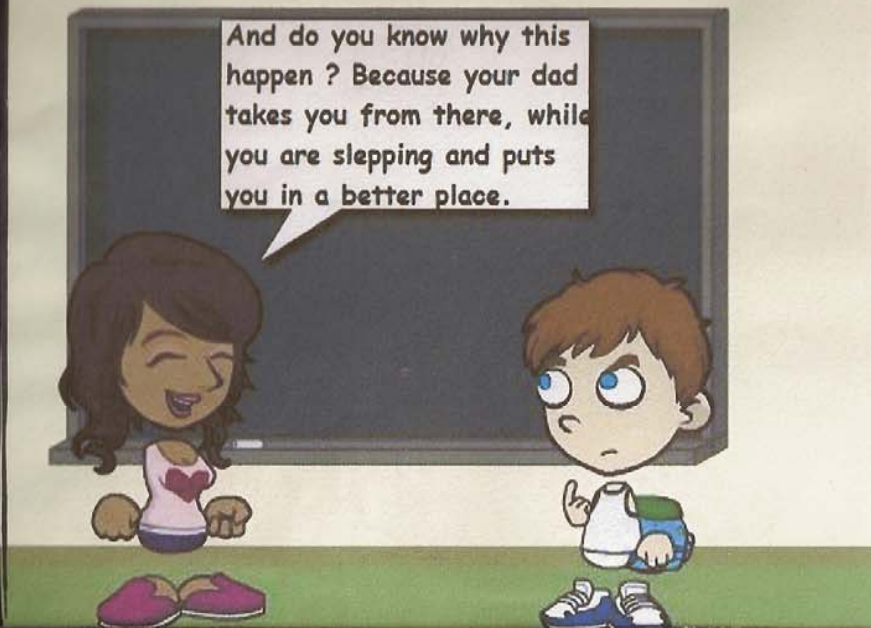

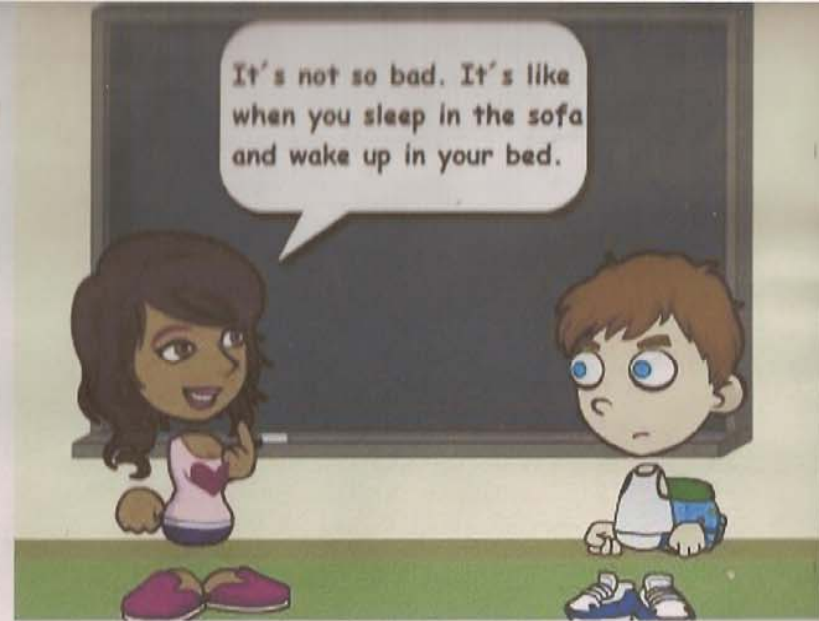

Earth took more than 4.6 billion years to be born...

How the human managed to kill it in just 2011 years? Why?

The life and the death are things that are connected. Are opposites. But why the death insists to finish the lives of innocents quickly? If there isn't life, there isn't death. Why this world is so cruel?

Well, he didn't have a good life, but it wasn't bad weather. We know we'll die, but we can't forget to live. IF we did not die, would life be quite so precious, so extraordinary, so moving?

The only explanation for the death is the impossibility of the body keep its functions. It isn't linked to any religion bullshit. The life is basically physical and mechanical.
